Canada-Luxembourg Co-Development and Co-Production Incentive for Audiovisual Projects

The Canada-Luxembourg Co-Development and Co-Production Incentive for Audiovisual Projects (“Incentive”) is a collaboration between the Canada Media Fund (“CMF” or “Party”) and the Fonds national de soutien à la production audiovisuelle/Film Fund Luxembourg (“FFL” or “Party”) (“CMF” and “FFL” collectively the “Parties”) to support the co-development of television projects (fiction and animation), animated feature films, and digital media projects, as well as the co-production of digital media projects (AR – VR – transmedia projects - new technologies) for eligible projects involving production companies from the two countries.

The total combined budget of the Incentive is CAN$800,000 (or approximately €530,000) with each Party contributing CAN$400,000 (or approximately €265,000).

The total maximum combined contribution for each funded development project (television, animated feature film or digital media) is CAN$100,000 (or approximately €66,000), and the total maximum combined contribution for each production project (digital media) is CAN$500,000 (or approximately €330,000).

The contribution of each country to selected projects will be determined on a case-by-case basis. The Incentive may be combined with funding from other programs of the FFL and the CMF. However, the maximum contribution by either country in any one project is limited to the respective rules of each Party as follows:

- For the CMF: the maximum contribution is limited to 75% of the eligible Canadian costs;
- For the FFL: the maximum contribution can be up to 95% of the eligible Luxembourg costs, provided that 10% of the producer overheads and fees are reinvested in the project.

The contribution is in the form of a non-repayable contribution for development or production.

New this year: projects that have previously received funding from one of the Parties is eligible to apply, provided that this application is not for the same activities or phase of work previously funded.

Eligible projects must meet the following criteria:

1. The project is a co-development (television, animated feature film or digital media) or a co-production (digital media). Television projects must be a dramatic series, animated series or animated feature film. Digital media projects must be in the area of virtual or augmented reality, transmedia projects, or new technology.
2. The ownership, financial control and creative contributions (based on key creative positions) are to be determined in the co-development or co-production agreement between the production companies. However, the CMF and FFL expect these elements to be proportional to each country’s financial contribution. The minority co-production company must own at least 15% of the project’s copyright. However, the Incentive encourages projects in which the ownership share is close to equal.
3. The project must involve at least one Luxembourg production company eligible under FFL criteria and at least one Canadian production company eligible under CMF criteria¹. However, a project co-developed or co-produced by a production company with a third country production company is also eligible provided that the Canadian and Luxembourg production companies have significant financial and creative involvement in the project (i.e., the third country production company must not own more than 15% ownership or control of the project).

¹ While signing up for a PERSONA-ID account is not a requirement for this Incentive, the CMF encourages all Canadian producers and key personnel to sign up for a PERSONA-ID account. For more information, please refer to the CMF PERSONA-ID webpage.

4. The project presents cultural content and has the potential to interest audiences in both countries and transcends national borders.
5. The co-production companies must ensure that the project meets the criteria of the funding organization in their respective countries (i.e., eligibility, business policies, insurance requirements for production stage Projects). In this regard, Canadian applicants must meet the requirements set out in section 3.1 of the applicable 2023–2024 CMF Program Guidelines², and Luxembourg applicants must meet the requirements of the Loi du 22 septembre 2014 relative au Fonds national de soutien à la production audiovisuelle and of the Règlement grand-ducal du 4 novembre 2014 portant exécution de la loi du 22 septembre 2014 relative au Fonds national de soutien à la production audiovisuelle as well as the rules and criteria of the *Documentation des règles relatives aux mesures incitatives*³.
6. Projects submitted must comply with rules pre-established in the Agreement between the Government of Canada and the Government of the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg regarding Audiovisual Co-Production.

Types of projects not eligible for funding include:

- Projects containing pornographic or racist material, or material condoning violence;
- Productions that aim to promote a specific organization and its activities;
- Products of a specifically corporate or industrial nature or primarily intended for promotional purposes;
- Catalogues or compilations of repurposed material presented without any new, value-adding original content;
- System software;
- Archival aggregation websites;
- Any project that does not comply with section 3.2 of the CMF 2024–2025 Linear Content Program Core Development and Predevelopment Guidelines;
- Any type of projects listed in section 3.2.2.2 of the 2024–2025 CMF Interactive Digital Media \(IDM\) Content Program Core Guidelines.

Selection Criteria and Process

Projects will be evaluated by a selection committee composed of representatives of the CMF and FFL.

Applications will be assessed in accordance with the evaluation criteria below. Furthermore, the selection committee will adopt a reciprocity approach in order to ensure a fair balance of investment provided by Canada and Luxembourg and a fair balance between majority and minority projects between both countries.

Evaluation Criteria

Cultural value of the project and target audience: 50 points

- Story and theme (originality of content, topic), overall interest of the proposal
- Narrative structure, style, creativity
- Distribution potential (festivals, national and international distribution, audience)

Track record of the teams: 25 points

- Track record, experience and achievements of the creative team
- Track record, experience and achievements of the production companies

²Development Program, Prototyping Program, Commercial Projects Program or Innovation & Experimentation Program, as applicable.

³Version effective from April 24, 2023.

Key Dates

Launch of the call for projects:	August 27, 2024
Closing date to submit projects:	December 3, 2024
Announcement of the selected projects:	End January, 2025

The Incentive team is available to facilitate introductions between producers located in Canada and Luxembourg.

An exchange rate for the Canadian dollar and the Euro will be set between the CMF and the FFL at the time of the allocation of the contributions and should subsequently be applied to all projects supported under this Incentive.

Applications — Important Information and Required Documentation

- Applications must be submitted within the deadlines published above and on the Parties' websites and in accordance with the stipulations set out in the application form.
- Projects must be submitted in English or in French in both Canada and Luxembourg.
- The cost eligibility period starts on the date the application is filed, and no funding will be applied to costs incurred prior to that date. Only costs related to the acquisition of copyright shall be eligible retroactively, for a period of 12 months preceding the date of the submission.
- Each co-production company is responsible for submitting the complete application to the authority (CMF or FFL) in its own country. The same set of documents must be submitted by each co-production company and the application form must be signed by all co-production companies.
 - Canadian production companies should submit their complete application through the Dialogue platform at <https://telefilm.ca/en/log-in>;
 - Luxembourg production companies should send their complete application to office@filmfund.etat.lu.
- Applications must include the following administrative information:
 - For all projects (development or production, television, animated feature films or digital media):
